Message from the Director

On behalf of the Office of Economic and Workforce Development, I am proud to present our Strategic Plan for Fiscal Year 2019-2020.

The Office of Economic and Workforce Development (OEWD) seeks to help all San Franciscans benefit equitably from the prosperity of our city. As San Francisco experiences long periods of economic growth, low unemployment rates and increased investments in City services, OEWD remains committed to realizing equitable outcomes for the communities and industries that we serve.

Our ongoing investments strengthen the vitality of our diverse neighborhoods and small businesses, deepen workforce opportunities for San Francisco residents, and maximize the benefits of expedited housing production at all income levels to help address the housing challenges we face here at home. OEWD supports a variety of industry sectors that advance the economic vibrancy of our city and reinforce our standing as a cultural and innovation capital of the world.

As we continue to grow these programs and services, we recognize the deep and pervasive impacts that past and present structural and institutional inequities have created in many of our communities, and in particular, our communities of color. We've seen that the unprecedented economic opportunities realized in San Francisco have not been accessible to all. Many OEWD services are designed to reach those who have been traditionally excluded from that prosperity.

To further opportunities for all San Franciscans, we create equitable pathways to good paying jobs, addressing challenges to diversity and inclusion in the local job market. We invest in the retention and stabilization of small businesses, nonprofits, and community organizations, addressing the displacement that challenges the civic vitality of San Francisco's diverse and vibrant neighborhoods. We also lead the approval and implementation of significant development projects that create more housing, especially affordable housing, while maximizing jobs, community benefits and services. All of these efforts support broader social and economic goals that improve the quality of life for our residents.

OEWD's 2019-2020 Strategic Plan reexamines our mission, defines our values, and sets key goals tied to achievable objectives and strategies. These values are evident in our passion and in the quality of our work. I thank our dedicated staff for their support, participation and input in shaping and building this Strategic Plan from the ground up.

Strategic Planning Process

OEWD's 2019-2020 Strategic Plan reexamines our mission, defines our values, and sets key goals tied to achievable objectives and strategies. The Plan is a living document that will help hold our department accountable to the stated goals and objectives in the coming year. The plan will be updated to ensure it is aligned with the city's priorities and responsive to the communities we serve.

The strategic planning process was guided by the Strategic Plan Advisory Committee, a cross-section of department staff. The process included a number of efforts, such as an online survey for staff to share their ideas around the mission, culture, values and structure of the organization.

OEWD also worked with a consultant to conduct six focus groups to collaborate on the organization's mission statement, values, goals, objectives, and key strategies with representatives of each division including: Workforce Development, Business Development, Film, Business Solutions, Invest in Neighborhoods, Office of Small Business, Joint Development, and Shared Services.

To bring our voices together, OEWD hosted an all-staff retreat to identify key challenges, issues, and opportunities, as well as discuss the future of the department. Through this planning process, we are creating a systemic and thoughtful approach toward ensuring equitable access and positive outcomes for the people we serve. This path will require us to continuously evaluate our service strategies, grantmaking processes, policies, and internal hiring and promotion practices. The Strategic Plan is OEWD's commitment towards our mission of advancing equity and shared prosperity for all San Franciscans.
